

The International Dewey Centers Network Presents
A Joint Online Colloquium Series

Scott Stroud (UT Austin) & Danish Hamid (Nayanta) A Discussion of Ambedkar's Pragmatism and the Ideals of Democracy

Representing the India Dewey Center
at Savitribai Phule Pune University

This panel features two scholars working on Ambedkar and his relationship to pragmatism. They will discuss Ambedkar's distinctive vision of pragmatism, and its novel reading of democracy and its ideals. There is much to learn about the history of pragmatism in India—as well as much to learn about the potentials of pragmatism in general from thinkers like Ambedkar engaged in the Indian context.

May 13, 2026

<https://tinyurl.com/DeweySPPU>

Carbondale	Argentina	Dublin	CEST	Türkiye	India	Beijing	Tokyo
8:00am	10:00am	2:00pm	3:00pm	4:00pm	6:30pm	9:00pm	10:00pm

The Center for Dewey Studies at Southern Illinois University Carbondale, USA has facilitated the establishment of many International Dewey Centers. This active international network spans four continents, promoting research and teaching on the work, life, and legacy of John Dewey and on pragmatist and American philosophy. This colloquium is organized by the Center for Dewey Studies at SIU in cooperation with the other members of the IDC Network. Find out more about this program and the Dewey Center at SIU at <https://deweycenter.siu.edu/>

Upcoming IDC Colloquia:

- October: Italy Dewey Center at Università di Bologna & Università di Roma La Sapienza

Find out more by visiting:

